NAPSA takes steps to secure future

The 2010/11 NAPSA Executive are thrilled to announce the launch of the National Australian Pharmacy Students' Association Future Fund.

The NAPSA Future Fund has been conceived out of a desire to secure NAPSA's financial position into the future, and to facilitate further educational opportunities for members. The aim is to foster the growth and experience of students prior to them entering the workforce.

NAPSA is proud to announce the following representatives as the inaugural trustees of the NAPSA Future Fund. From the Australian College of Pharmacy, Mr Peter Saccasan, from the Pharmacy Guild of Australia and NAPSA Honorary Life Member, Mr Patrick Reid and from the Pharmaceutical Society of Australia, Grant Kardachi.

NAPSA would like to recognise the contribution of Peter Saccasan, Trent Twomey and Guild Accountants for their hard work in establishing the Trust, and for guiding the NAPSA National Council on this new endeavour.

National President, Ashleigh Coome, thanked those involved. "These have been unchartered waters for NAPSA, and we're grateful to have the continued support and guidance of these individuals and professional organisations."

"I'm excited to see NAPSA on a new path of self-sustainability, future planning and management. I hope to see NAPSA continue to move forward, grow and build on its successes in the years to come because of the initiation of this Fund" says Ms Coome.
